Elizabeth was the second daughter of John and Mary Elliott. Records indicate she was born in Bradworthy, Devon. She married James Hamlyn of Clovelly, Devon in 1832 at St Nectan's Church in Hartland. He was the second youngest of Thomas Hamlyn and Mary Cooke's children. His family lived in Clovelly. The Hamlyn family has "owned" the village since 1738. The large majority of residents of Clovelly carried the Hamlyn name.

Elizabeth Mary's husband James Hamlyn died in 1836. He appears to have been the son of Thomas Hamlyn (1754 – 1808) and Mary Cook (1764 – 1834). I have no confirmation of the cause of James Hamlyn's death. He died five weeks after the birth of daughter Mariah. According to Paul Chesterman, a direct descendant of James and Elizabeth, they lived at Clifford Cottage in Hartland after their 1832 marriage. This farm, now rental cottages, is located just two kilometers inland from Clovelly, Hartland, the ancestral home of the Hamlyn's.

Clifford Cottage

Clovelly is a well-known summer tourist attraction and movie location these days but was a thriving fishing port in the early 1800's. Most of the buildings are of Grade 1 heritage designation. In the past, it was known for the use of donkeys to transport products and people up the steep coastal cliffs. The link noted below is an excellent tourist overview of the location.

The village is privately owned and has been associated with only three families since the middle of the 13th century. Today, the estate is run by the Clovelly Estate Company, led by John Rous, a descendant of the Hamlyn family who has owned the village, estate and manor house, since 1738.

Clovelly street and harbour

After James Hamlyn died, 30-year-old widowed Elizabeth moved back with her parents and siblings to the family farm in Marwood parish. Marwood was a substantial trip from Clovelly in the 1830s. The 37-kilometer trip would have taken all day. I suspect the Elliott family moved from Bradworthy to Marwood a few years prior to the 1841 census. The reason for the move is unknown.

Elizabeth and her three children came over to Canada with the main body of the family in 1843. No census records show where she was living during the 1851 census period. She and her young daughters may have spent time in the Scarborough, Durham County Upper Canada area before moving to Ingersoll or perhaps she was in the Ingersoll region when the majority of the family moved there around 1844. As noted in Book 1, father John Elliott purchased a portion of property on the north side of the Thames River in the 1850's from John Crotty's farm and created the John Elliott subdivision on John St. in newly formed Ingersoll. Onland.ca records show that Elizabeth Mary was very likely the Mary Hamlyn that purchased from John, her father, a house at lot 6 on John St. on July 25, 1854. John St. would remain a home address for Hamlyn descendants through the decades. If this is indeed Elizabeth Hamlyn, the question begs as to where were her children who would have been 19, 17 and 15 years of age. The only 1851 census Ingersoll record of a Hamlyn – Elliott connection in Ingersoll is a John Elliott and a Mary Hamlyn that lived on John St. I suspect that this was Elizabeth's father John and his second wife Mary Hamlyn. The following page of the census indicates they were married as discussed in Book 1. Elizabeth's daughter Mary was found living with her Prouse cousins in Dereham in the 1851 census. Son Thomas was found with uncle Samuel Elliott in W Zorra. Where Elizabeth and daughter Mariah were in the 1851 census is not known.

As noted, Elizabeth had purchased her brick house on Lot 6 John St. in the John Elliott subdivision, as town maps called it, from her father in 1854.

The Village of Ingersoll was incorporated in 1852 and the local population blossomed. One new member was Joseph Hempswell. Elizabeth was remarried to Joseph Hempswell in 1857. He was born in Lincolnshire, England 1805. Not much time has been spent locating Joseph in his time in England. One intriguing element is that a Joseph Hempswell B 1805 from Lincoln City, Lincolnshire had a court case on 05 March, 1836 in Lincolnshire. The location, birth age and dates are correct to the Ingersoll Joseph Hempswell. I believe it was him. He was sentenced to two months for larceny. From there he made his way to Canada. If this is the correct man, I wonder if knowledge of his criminal record followed him to Oxford Co.

The 1861 census lists him as a 56-year-old "gentleman" and the couple lived next door to Mary's father and second wife. It is interesting that he moved into his wife's house on John Street. Did he not have a house of his own? They had no children and by this time, Elizabeth's three children had moved on in their own lives and were not living with Elizabeth.

1861/1871 census John St. Ingersoll

Ten years later, the 1871 census had the couple still living on John St in Ingersoll. Even though Joseph was 66 years old at that time he was now a "labourer". What had changed that required him to go back to work?

After Joseph Hempswell's death in 1875, Elizabeth continued living alone in her house on John St. until about 1890. She was 80 years old at the time. According to the 1891 census Elizabeth's daughter, 54-year-old Maria Henderson and her husband had moved into the house. Elizabeth, due to her likely infirmities of health, had moved to London where she appeared in the 1891 census as living with her son Thomas' widowed second wife Grace and her brood. Grace took care of her mother-in-law until Grace remarried. At this point, there is no indication as to where Elizabeth lived until her death in 1899 when at age 88 when she suffered a stroke and a fall. Her tombstone has an interesting note on it. It says she was born in Cornwall, England. My assumption would have been that she was born in Devon as were all her siblings. Either there was an error made at her death about her birth location or a mystery lies unsolved as to her birth location. Was she illegitimate? She was buried at IRC very near to her siblings and parents.

ELIZABETH HEMPSWELL

Another of the remaining pioneers of the section passed away on Wednesday last in the person of Mrs. Elizabeth Hempswell who for over half a century had been a resident of this vicinity. Mrs. Hempswell was the second daughter of the late John and Mary Elliott, and was born in Devonshire, England in 1810. In 1882* she was married to James Hamlyn, by whom she had three children, the eldest of whom, Thomas died in Wingham, and the remaining two being Mrs. E. M. Henderson and Mrs. James Martin, of Ingersoll. After four years of happy married life her husband died. In 1848* she came with her parents, a sister and three brothers to this country and settled in West Zorra, shortly afterwards removing to Ingersoll where she has resided ever since. The brothers had come to Canada a couple of years after the parents, the old homestead being on the farm where the old West Zorra cheese factory was located. In 1857 she was married to Joseph Hempswell who died in November, 1875. Besides the children above mentioned she leaves six grandchildren, nine great grandchildren and thirty-nine nephews and nieces. Mrs. Hempswell enjoyed good healthy until a little over a year ago, when she suffered a slight stroke of paralysis from which, however she soon recovered. A few weeks later she unfortunately received a fall which rendered her almost helpless during the remainder of life. On New Years Day she contracted a cold which developed into influenza and on Wednesday morning she passed quietly away. Deceased was an earnest Christian worker, having joined the Bible Christian Church in the old country when but a child. Upon coming to this country, she identified herself with the Charles Street Methodist church, of which she has been an exemplary member ever since. She has a wide circle of warm friends who will sincerely mourn her demise. The funeral took place to the Ingersoll Rural Cemetery Friday afternoon and was very largely attended. The solemn services were conducted by Rev. T.J. Atkins and the pall bearers all nephews of the deceased were Thos. Seldon, Thos. Prouse, Foster Wilson, Edwin Elliot, Richard Elliot, Jas. R. Elliot.

Ingersoll Tribune 02 Feb, 1899.

* As a note:

Elizabeth married James Hamlyn 22 July, 1832 and not 1882.

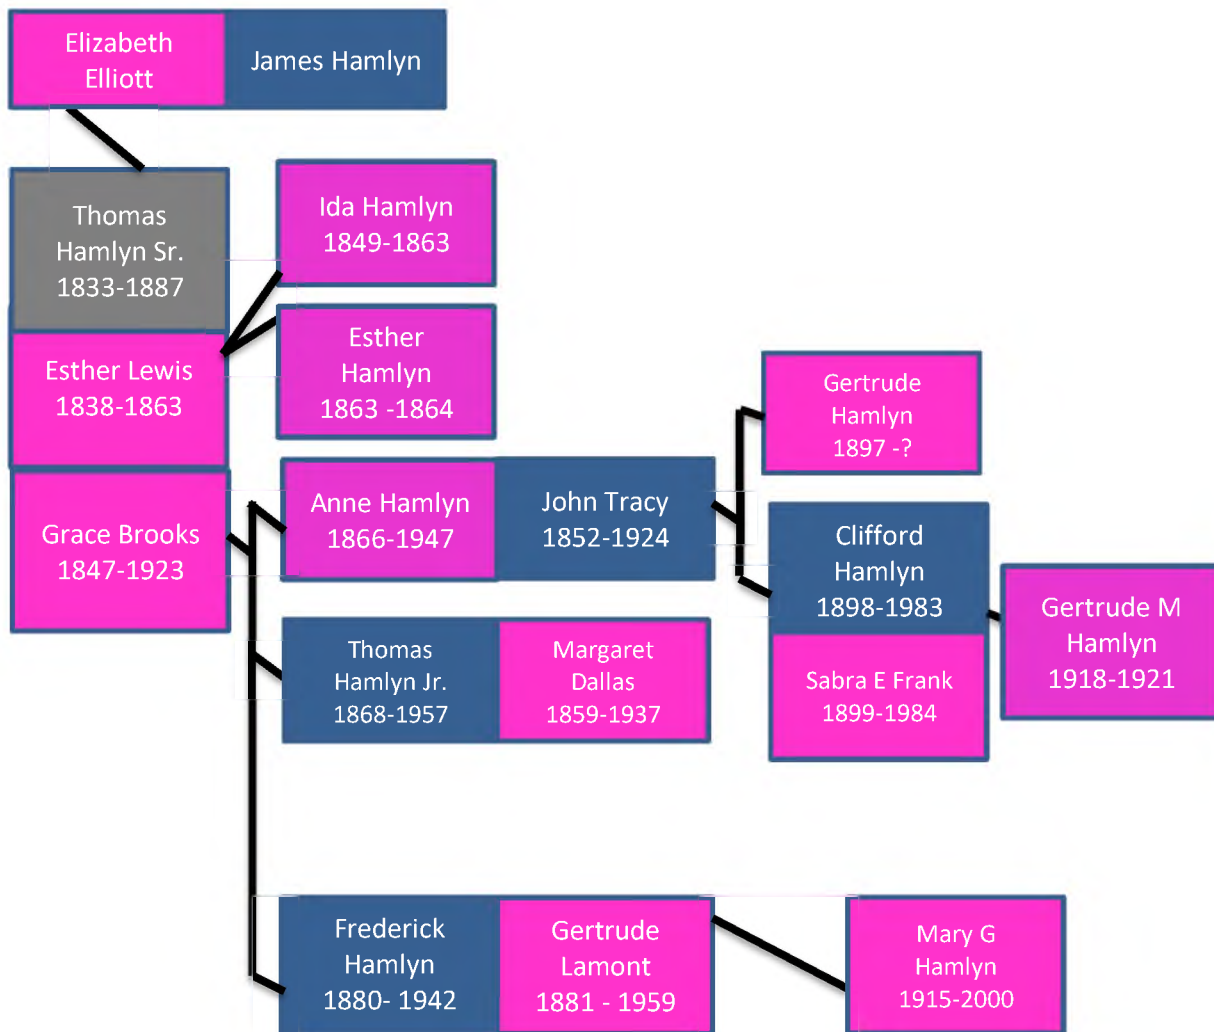

*Elizabeth arrived in Oxford County in 1843 and not 1848. The obituary also states she arrived with a sister and three brothers. All her brothers arrived in 1843 not 1848 except oldest brother John who I suspect was already in the area. There is a question regarding the arrival of four brothers that are believed to have come over at the same time. It is possible that teenage brothers, Samuel, James and Thomas came with her and 23-year-old brother William arrived with his new bride and young son on another ship. The sister element is correct as one sister, Eliza, arrived at the same time but two other sisters came with their Prouse and Seldon husbands at a later date

HEMPSWELL--At Ingersoll, on 25th January, Elizabeth Hempswell, aged 88 years, 2 months and 14 days. The funeral will take place on Friday, January 27th at 2 o'clock from her late residence, John Street, and proceed to the Ingersoll Rural Cemetery

Her obituary states that she was from Devon but her tombstone disagrees.

Thomas Hamlyn Sr. came over with his mother and two sisters with the main body of Elliott family in 1843. By the 1851 census, he was a 20-year-old carpenter living with his 26-year-old uncle Samuel Elliott and Samuel's 18-year-old bride Annie Walker and their young daughter on Samuel's farm in W Zorra. This property would eventually become the Elliott Family Cheese Factory (later called the Red Star Cheese Factory). The land was the original family farm. Thomas was listed on the census as being a carpenter for the Great Western Railroad (GWR), a trade and employer he would maintain throughout his life.

John. Ingersoll Directory.

MARRIED.

In this place, yesterday, by the Rev. George Turner, Mr Thomas Hamlyn of Ingersoll, to Miss Esther Savina Lewis of Centerville.

Ingersoll Chronicle Dec 24, 1858

On Christmas Eve 1858, he married Esther Lewis of Centerville, W. Oxford. He was living in Ingersoll at the time. Esther was the daughter of US born Horatio Lewis, a retired gentleman. The Ontario Marriage records shows the marriage of Thomas and Esther was performed in Ingersoll. By the time he had married he had purchased several lots on John St. from his grandfather, who held the mortgages. The lots were purchased between 1857 to 1863. Whether there were houses on all the lots Thomas purchased is unknown as John Elliott had purchased the raw land in 1852. By the 1861 census, Thomas and family were living on Lot 1 northeast corner of John St and Bell St. Tragedy struck the family on Oct 19, 1863 when Esther died two weeks after giving birth to second daughter Ida. Ida died one month after her mother and Thomas' older daughter, also named Esther, died the following year at age two on 06 Sept, 1864. The last John St. lot Thomas purchased occurred a month before his wife's death.

Thomas' land purchases noted on Onland.ca

Thomas Hamlyn was born in Devonshire, England. He married Esther Savina (sp) Lewis in Canada, in 1858. They had two children, Ida and Esther. His wife, Esther, died 15 days after their second daughter was born. The eldest daughter Ida, died a month later, and the youngest daughter, Esther died 11 months later. All 3 are buried together in the Ingersoll Rural Cemetery.

Find A Grave notation

Esther was 37 when she died. There appears to be no record in the IRC burial index noting the death or burial location for Esther and her two young daughters but a visit to the cemetery confirms that they are buried with husband Thomas Hamlyn Sr.

Since Esther and her one daughter died prior to the opening of the cemetery in 1864, they must have been buried somewhere else and then moved. They were not "removed" to the cemetery with the Elliott/Wilson/Prouse group in 1866 from the extended family farm burial ground. Where they were is a mystery. Thomas' life was full of tragedy. His father died when he was 4 years old. He also lived to see his wife and two young daughters perish.

Ingersoll Chronicle

After the tragedy, Thomas started once again to have a family. On May 21, 1866 he married Grace Brooks of Ingersoll. He was 36 years old and she was 19. They had 3 children. The family continued to live on John St. in Ingersoll as Thomas worked as a carpenter for the GWR. He was a member of the Masonic Temple and an avid vegetable gardener.

187 A few days since, Mr Thomas Hamlyn, of this town, showed us a very fine sample of "Early Rose" potatoes, grown in his own garden, in the open air. On Monday, Mr Ingersoll Chronicle 1869

They moved to Wingham Ont. around 1877 and the 1881 census indicated they were living at 8 Patrick St N in Wingham. In Ingersoll, he worked as a carpenter for the railroad and as the GWR had just expanded into Huron County in the mid 1870s, he was either transferred there or went of his own volition as he held the same occupation in the 1881 Wingham census. Thomas was there until his death on the 10th of Jan, 1887. He is buried in IRC with his first family in the Elliott section.

Second wife Grace Brooks was born in Yorkshire. She was found in the 1861 census as a 14-year-old living with the Hayward family in E Oxford. How she arrived there from England and was not living with her immediate family was a mystery. Where the rest of her family was is an unknown that needed investigating. Her death information indicates that she had no knowledge of her parents. Hers would be an interesting story. After Thomas Hamlyn's death, second wife

Grace returned to Ingersoll. The Lot 1/2/3/ properties on John St. were kept by Thomas when they moved to Wingham but the properties were transferred to Grace's name in 1887/1888 as per Onland.ca. Grace later moved the family to London as noted in the 1891 census but quickly married Ebenezer Uren in October of 1891. Ebenezer Uren was a N. Oxford farmer that lived in the Beachville/Centreville area in late 1891 and Grace and son Frederick moved to the Uren farm house.

When Grace moved to London for reasons unknown, she took sons Thomas and Frederick with her. However, there was another child in the picture, Jane. She was listed as a 2-year-old daughter in the 1891 census.

SUDDEN DEATH.—It is our painful duty, says the Wingham Times, this week to chronicle the death of Thomas Hamlyn, one of our most highly respected citizens, which occurred suddenly and unexpected at his residence on Patrick street at an early hour on Tuesday morning. Mr Hamlyn was apparently enjoying his usual health on Monday, and worked up till six o'clock that evening. Shortly after retiring for the night, however, he complained of feeling slightly ill, but not sufficient to cause the family any uneasiness. When Mrs. Hamlyn awoke about five o'clock on Tuesday morning she found her husband breathing his last, and although medical aid was summoned immediately, the vital spark had fled before it arrived. We have the heartfelt sympathy of the community in their sudden bereavement. Deceased was 53 years of age on the day of his death. The funeral took place on Wednesday morning to the G. T. R. depot, from whence the remains were taken to Ingersoll for interment.

Grace's new husband Ebenezer Uren lived in West Oxford at Lot 13, Broken Front Concession (just west of present-day Centerville). moved into his home bringing her youngest son Frederick Hamlin. At age 20, he was still with the blended family in the 1901 census. Perhaps ironically, Grace and Ebenezer were back living on John St. in the 1921 census. Her husband had retired and moved in town with wife Grace, a daughter and 28-year-old Jennie Brooks – listed as his stepdaughter. Jennie the mystery returns. Is she the 2-year-old Jane from the 1891 census that was claimed as a daughter of Grace? Likely. The 1921 census listed Jennie Brooks living with the Urens. She was tabulated then as a niece. Since it appears that Grace made the trip across the Atlantic alone, Jennie being a niece of Grace's seems remote. A daughter maybe? Where did Jennie Brooks originate?

This question was answered in Grace's obituary in the Ingersoll Chronicle Newspaper. It notes that Grace in fact came to Welland Ontario with her parents and siblings. The 1851 UK census of Worley Yorkshire, a village just west of Leeds in Yorkshire and other records

MRS. E. W. UREN
 Death on Friday, August 31st, claimed an esteemed resident of Ingersoll in the person of Mrs. E. W. Uren, wife of E. W. Uren, in her 77th year at her late residence, John Street. For many years the late Mrs. Uren had been an invalid but throughout her long illness maintained an extraordinary degree of cheerfulness. Born in England, April 1st, 1846, she, Grace Brooks, came to Canada with her parents during childhood settling at Welland, Ont. She married to Thos. Hamlyn who died in 1887. In 1889 she was married to E. W. Uren. She is survived by her husband, four sons, Thomas J. Hamlyn, Fred J. Hamlyn, London, Ont.; Russell H. Uren, Calgary, and Alfred E. Uren, Toronto, also three daughters, Mrs. J. A. Tracy, Stewarttown, Ont., Miss Sadie Uren, at home, and Mrs. W. L. Badley, Elmira, Ont., and niece Miss Jennie Brooks of Victoria Hospital Training School, London. One sister and three brothers also survive. The service was conducted by Rev. M. E. Soxsmith assisted by Rev. J. G. Scott, and Rev. H. J. Uren. The pall bearers were five nephews and Lloyd Thomp son of Ingersoll--Ingersoll Tribune.

seems to indicate she was born there. Her obituary claims she came to Canada with her parents when she was a child yet her death certificate was unable to name her parents. As well, there was a 14-year-old Grace Brooks who was born in England and then living in E Oxford in the 1861 census? The same girl? All very confusing. However, the obit has Jennie confirmed as her niece. One mystery answered.

After suffering for a decade with chronic arthritis, Grace died at her home in John St. and her remains occupy a spot in IRC with second husband Ebenezer Uren.

Text of Notice HAMLIN--In Ingersoll, on the 2nd inst., the wife of Mr. Thomas Hamlyn, of a daughter Ingersoll chronicle

Annie was 10 years old when the family was uprooted to Wingham where she spent her formative years. She was 20 years old when she married John Tracy. He was almost 20 years her senior. Tracy was the bank manager for the Bank of Hamilton in Wingham when he met and married Anne. By 1891 they were living in Esquesling township, Halton County where John worked for an insurance firm in Stewarttown where he was born and raised. Later he was the township clerk until his death. His father was a founding member of the community and the first township clerk. They lived in his father's house, now a heritage property on the Stewarttown Rd. His obituary was extremely long and eloquent in the July 1, 1925 Georgetown Herald. He appeared to be a well educated and talent man. (Excerpt below)

Obituary

JOHN A. TRACY

The sudden death of John Alexander Tracy of Stewarttown is a great shock to the community. In his passing Halton, more especially Esquesling, suffers a loss that cannot be filled. John Tracy, for over twenty years, was Township Clerk, which position with the office of Clerk of the 3rd Division Court and Secretary of the Esquesling Agricultural Society, he held until his death and the different offices will go far afield to find a man to fill his place. Mr. Tracy was in his 74th year; he was born in Stewarttown of Irish parentage and is the last of his generation. He was educated at the old Grammar School at Georgetown and later a student of the late Dr. Fassie of Galt, after which he spent some time at the Royal Military College at Kingston. Upon leaving there he taught school for several years in different parts of the county and many of the present day residents have fond recollections of his tuition. Leaving his teaching to take a position with the Bank of Hamilton in its early days he served that institution for a number of years at Georgetown, Tottenham, Listowel, Hamilton, Port Elgin and finally at Wingham where, in 1887 he married Miss Annie E. Hamlyn, only daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Hamlyn of Wingham, and later returned to Stewarttown where he took up the duties of Township Clerk, and a little later was appointed License Inspector for the County of Halton which position he well and faithfully filled for several years. He was always active in military affairs and upon obtaining the rank of Captain in the 20th Halton Rifles he was granted his long service medal, of which he was justly proud. He was a lifelong member of the Georgetown band, an all-round sport, a good cricket player and a good horseman in his younger

After John Tracy’s death in 1925 and his burial in Stewarttown, Anne continued to live in the family home and in 1931 had taken in two female boarders, a 76-year-old retiree and a 21-year-old school teacher. She later moved to London Ont. to live with her brother Thomas Jr. and his wife Margaret Dallas. By 1945 she was living at the extended care Parkwood Hospital in London until her 1947 death. She is buried with her brother Thomas J R Hamlyn and his wife. (photo previous page). Anne and John Tracy had no children.

News came to the village Tuesday morning that Mrs. J. A. Tracy passed away Monday in Parkwood Hospital, London. Mrs Tracey had been ill for 6 or 7 years and suffered greatly.

Ingersoll Chronicle

After husband Thomas' Wingham death in 1887, Grace moved the family to London before remarrying and moving to a farm on the eastern outskirts of Ingersoll. John Jr. did not make the trip to Ingersoll with mother Grace but stayed in Wingham. John Jr. later moved to London.

This was prior to him marrying his wife Margaret Dallas in 1896.

The couple were both 27 years old when married (see Clinton New Era announcement). She was the daughter of rail worker Crombie Dallas of Wingham. There is a good possibility that she met Thomas Jr. through their fathers who worked for the same company. Thomas Jr. owned a butcher shop and the family lived at 417 Hill St. in London. The site is now a relatively new Roman Catholic church. It appears the family lived on the second floor above the shop and his mother Margaret lived with them for a time. As noted, his mother would eventually remarry to Ebenezer Uren in 1891. The marriage was a quiet

In Wingham on Wednesday at noon Miss Maggie Dallas, second daughter of Crombie Dallas, changed her name to that of Mrs. Thomas J. R. Hamlyn in the presence of a few invited guests at the residence of the bride's parents. The ceremony was performed by Rev. D. Perrie. The groom was supported by Thomas Greary, of London; Miss Sadie Uren, of Ingersoll, was bridesmaid, and Miss Bessie Parker was maid-of-honor. affair and took place at Thomas Jr's Hill St. home. Tom eventually sold the butcher shop and went to work part time for the new owner. He was laid off from his job according to the 1931 census, likely due to the depression. He and his wife and daughter Gertrude (age 33), were still living above the butcher shop on Hill St. The 1945 voters list has widower Thomas Jr., then in his late 70s still at his butcher shop but another couple was living with him. He lived to the age of eighty-nine.

He was a sign painter by profession having been born in London. They couple moved into the 417 Hill St residence of her widower father and lived there at least until 1949 (voters list) and likely until her father's 1957 death and perhaps until her death. Due to her advanced age at marriage, children seem unlikely.

Clifford's wedding in Detroit in October of 1917 creates some timeline issues. Although the couple were both listed as 18 years of age, Clifford's birth schedule date would indicate he was actually 17 and Eileen's tombstone says she was born in 1899. She too according to her birth records would have been only 17. I suspect an elopement had occurred and they ran to the US to marry. This happened more than once in the Elliott clan.

Michigan Marriage schedule:

Very soon after the marriage, daughter Gertrude was born. She was born in 1918 and died in 1921 of typhoid fever. The couple lived in London first at 107 Adelaide St as of the 1931 census. He worked as railroad switchman and then yardmaster for CNR in keeping with the family tradition. After his moved to Lambeth, he was a conductor until his retirement.

It is with great sadness that we announce the passing of Dr. Rick Merritt in his 71st year on Thursday, June 30th, 2016. He was surrounded by his loving wife Heather of 40 years and his family. Loving father to his children: Kristen Lewis (Dave), Paul Merritt (Marnie), and Candace Olszewski (Simon). Brother to Dr. Bob Merritt (Sheree) and Linda Bray (Gary), and brother-in-law to Pearl Haggarty. Proud Papa to Cal and Jordyn Lewis; Kennedy, Logan and Mallory Merritt; and his special pets Gucci, Gem and Kingston. Doctor of Oncology noted: “He had an incredible fighting spirit and was, in some ways, bigger than this world”. Dr. Rick received his doctor of dental surgery degree from the University of Western Ontario in 1972. He was a long-standing member of several dental associations: ODA, AGD, LDDS and IAO. For over 6 years in the late 1970s, Rick was an International 3M consultant and travelled worldwide lecturing and working on the development of a silver filling replacement alternative. Rick proudly served as past President of The Parkhill Lion's Club where he was an active member for many years. Dr. Rick's love for creating and building were instrumental in bringing life back to Parkhill, Ontario, with his many commercial and residential developments, as well as being the driving force in the creation of the largest group of dental centers in the London area known as 'Dove Dental' in 1987. Dove Dental now has 11 clinics in Ontario. He took great pride in serving his patients, always putting their needs first with a caring and preventative approach. His greatest joy was working with children, which gave him happiness and fulfillment when they would hug him after their treatment. He took time to mentor his associate dentists to always serve the communities and provide care to the underprivileged. Rick's zest for life, fun and sense of humour brought joy to all around him. He loved the water and was an avid sailing captain. His passions in life included: golfing, scuba diving, skiing, hockey and creating culinary masterpieces (homemade pizzas to famous banana breads). Rick had a true love of music and was a big band trumpet and piano player. He furthered his love by never missing an opportunity to practice his uninhibited dance moves! Whether it was at the Glen Dovet Farm, the lake house or his home in Mexico, Rick took great joy in hosting all large family functions.

It is with great sadness that we announce the passing of Dr. Robert Merritt, at the age of 69, on Wednesday, March 7, 2018. He was surrounded by his loving wife, Sheree, and his family. Dr. Robert remained proud of starting a janitorial business in order to put himself through school resulting in him receiving his Doctor of Dental Surgery degree from the University of Western Ontario in 1974. He was a long-standing member of several dental associations – ODA, LDDS and AGD. For over 15 years, Dr. Robert was involved in many advanced dental study clubs for the development of superior dental surgery techniques. He took great pride in serving his patients for 44 years – always putting their needs first with a caring, preventative approach. His greatest joy was having four generations of family in his practice. Dr. Robert loved the water and was an avid boating captain. His passions in life included piloting his own aircraft, trap shooting, scuba diving, skiing and spending time every year in his beloved Jamaica ‘San Souse’ with his wife Sheree. Dr. Robert had a true love of music and was a drummer in his own band, as well as being a back-up drummer for many big bands while going to school.

There are some interesting coincidences with the Hamlyn family and the village of Lambeth. While researching the Clifford Hamlyn family, I kept running into a Hamlyn family in Lambeth Ont. Their records also indicated they were originally from Devon. They also liberally used the given names of Gertrude, Grace and Thomas with regularity. Could they have been English relatives that had also moved to Canada? Their presence in Lambeth is more notable with Clifford retiring there and by the presence of the Ralph Hamlyn Park and Playground and Hamlyn St. in Lambeth. There is some proof to back up this claim. The family of Thomas and Susan (Pengilly) Hamlyn of Clovelly moved to Canada around 1855 and settled on a farm on what is now Hale St in London. Oldest son Henry, born in Devon in 1849 married Mary Talbot of Quebec. They raised at least four children, William B 1877, Minnie B 1881 and Thomas B 1874 and Frank.

Further backtracking with the use of the 1851 Devon census found the family forefathers living at Stillworthy Farm. This location is about 2 kilometers from the James Hamlyn/Elizabeth Elliott farm at Clifford Cottage near the family seat at Clovelly. It is highly likely that the two Lambeth Hamlyn families were closely related and had knowledge of each other.

The History of Lambeth

The Hamlyn Mill

“A mill started by the Arthur’s family in 1877 was purchased by Henry Hamlyn in 1889. Flour milled here was drawn by horses to London bakeries and in 1906, a spur line of the Traction railway was put into the mill. Henry’s sons, Thomas and Frank, worked in the mill and a daughter Minnie was the bookkeeper. On the death of Henry Hamlyn in 1923, flour milling ended. Thomas carried on with the mill and at his death in 1931, Ralph Hamlyn took over the building. The mill was remodeled and material from the frame structure was used in erecting the Cozy Corner Lunchroom, later it became the Bungalow and then Bings Chinese Restaurant. This building was later the Lambeth Crossings Pub and Eatery. The mill closed in 1966 but a remnant of early building housed the G&G Motorcycles.

Ralph Hamlyn's grandfather Henry built a large house east of the Hamlyn Mill in 1896. Minnie the sister lived in the house following the death of her parents, until she married Albert Alexander McFarlane, a farmer from Delaware Township. Albert decided to branch out into another occupation and in 1928 received his Funeral Director's licence. He established the A.A. McFarlane Funeral Home on highway 2 at the east end of Lambeth in 1933. He operated the business until 1961 when the house and business were sold to David Roberts. It became known as McFarlane Roberts Funeral Home.

Grandson Ralph Hamlyn was a well-known supporter of sports in Lambeth."

After his father's death in 1887 and his mother's subsequent remarriage to Ebenezer Uren, Frederick was found in 1901 living as a 20-year-old with his mother, stepfather and step siblings on Uren's farm south east of Ingersoll near Centerville. He had been employed as a store clerk for at least a year likely with the F G Walley Drug Store in Ingersoll. The 1911 census of Manitoba has a F J Hamlyn born in 1880 in Ontario, living as a lodger at 423 Portage Ave. in Winnipeg. The fact that he married Gertrude Lamont in Winnipeg in 1912 would be more confirmation that Fred was there for an extended period. Articles and ads in the Winnipeg Tribune further confirm his appearance in Winnipeg.

The engagement is announced of Miss Gertrude Lamont, formerly of Lindsay, Ont., to Mr. Fred Hamlyn, of Winnipeg. The wedding will be celebrated on Monday in St. Margaret's church at 8 a.m.

Dear Sirs,—In regard to the sale of SANOL and SANOL'S ANTI-DIABETES, I might say I have been handling the goods for about three months. I was obliged to put in SANOL'S ANTI-DIABETES to supply one of my customers, who now is completely cured, and whom, I believe, has sent a testimonial to your office. Another customer ordered SANOL and I was obliged to stock it. This gentleman was so well satisfied that he has sent bottles to his friends. Up to this time I had never really taken much interest in the preparations, but when customer after customer would come in and tell us about what SANOL had done for them, I came to the conclusion that it would be worth my while getting behind SANOL and recommending it to my customers. This I have done, and I have heard nothing but words of praise for SANOL and SANOL'S ANTI-DIABETES. I am, yours truly, Messrs. A. S. Hault, Fred Hamlyn and Thomas Porter passed their junior set of examinations of the Ontario College of Pharmacy, the former taking first class honours. Mr. Hault took third in chemistry while Mr. Hamlyn was second in practical chemistry. Mr. Roy Magee of Putnam, took second class honours.

Gertie Lamont was the daughter of Mary Richards and Harness maker Nathaniel Lamont living at Con 5 Lot 21 outside of Strathroy. Strathroy is a community just west of London. She moved to Lindsay, Ontario then on to Winnipeg where she met Fred.

As his obituary notes, Fred set up his own drug store in Windsor. The Austin Drug store was located at the corner of Wyandette and Glengarry Streets. After he sold his Windsor store he moved to Winnipeg where he met Gertrude. He moved his drug store from Windsor to Winnipeg as well. He sold his drug store in Winnipeg and became a London, Ontario based travelling salesman.

They moved to Toronto prior to 1914. Daughter Grace was born in Grace Hospital, Toronto in 1915. He and his family returned to London as per the 1921 census and continued his job as a salesman. His stepfather's obituary of 1934 listed Fred as a surviving stepson living in Toronto so I suspect he returned there again. He next was found in Montreal at age 62, with his wife, at which time he was likely recently or soon to be retired and the couple had moved to Montreal to be near his daughter. It appears that after Fred's death wife Gertrude stayed in Montreal in the care of her daughter, where she died in 1959.

Clifford left the drug store business to work as a travelling salesman for Bauer and Black, a Chicago manufacturer of surgical dressings, porous plasters, suspensory, chest protectors and other surgical appliances. He had very likely sold their products in his store and from there became a company representative. Frederick travelled to many Canadian towns and cities as the sales representative for the company.

FORMER RESIDENT PASSES AWAY IN MONTREAL

A former citizen of Ingersoll, Frederick J. Hamlyn, died on Friday night in Montreal. Mr. Hamlyn was a step-brother of Mrs. Walter Badley and Miss Sadie Uren, John St., Ingersoll, and had many friends in Ingersoll, who have heard of his passing with regret. The late Mr. Hamlyn was a former assistant of F. G. Walley in the drug store here, and was highly esteemed. In 1910 he went to Windsor and opened a drug store there. Later he was a travelling representative of the Bauer and Black Company. Recently he had been in Montreal and had only been ill a month. He is survived by his widow and one daughter, Grace, librarian at McGill University. The funeral took place at Montreal Ingersoll Tribune July 1942.

Hamlyn, Grace*

Grace Hamlyn worked for many years at McGill University in the Redpath Library, the Commerce and Law Library, the Undergraduate Library, and the Medical Library. She then continued her career as a hospital librarian for the Royal Edward Tuberculosis institute which later become Montreal Chest Hospital. From 1956-63, Grace had a UNESCO fellowship for the study of international government documents, which involved travel to the United States and Europe. She was in attendance at the Second International Congress on Medical Librarianship in Washington, D.C. and delivered welcoming remarks in French, one of the three official languages at the meeting.

Grace was born in Toronto and was raised in London. From an early age she wanted to be a librarian and almost abandoned her dream when she developed diabetes as a teenager. Her physician eventually convinced her that a chronic disease did not preclude university attendance. She earned a general bachelor of arts degree at McGill and then continued in the one-year library course. Grace was especially pleased that the year she received her library science degree from McGill was the same year that Frederick Banting was awarded an honorary degree. Everyone in her library school class of thirteen was successful in finding employment which was a marked contrast from the 30s.

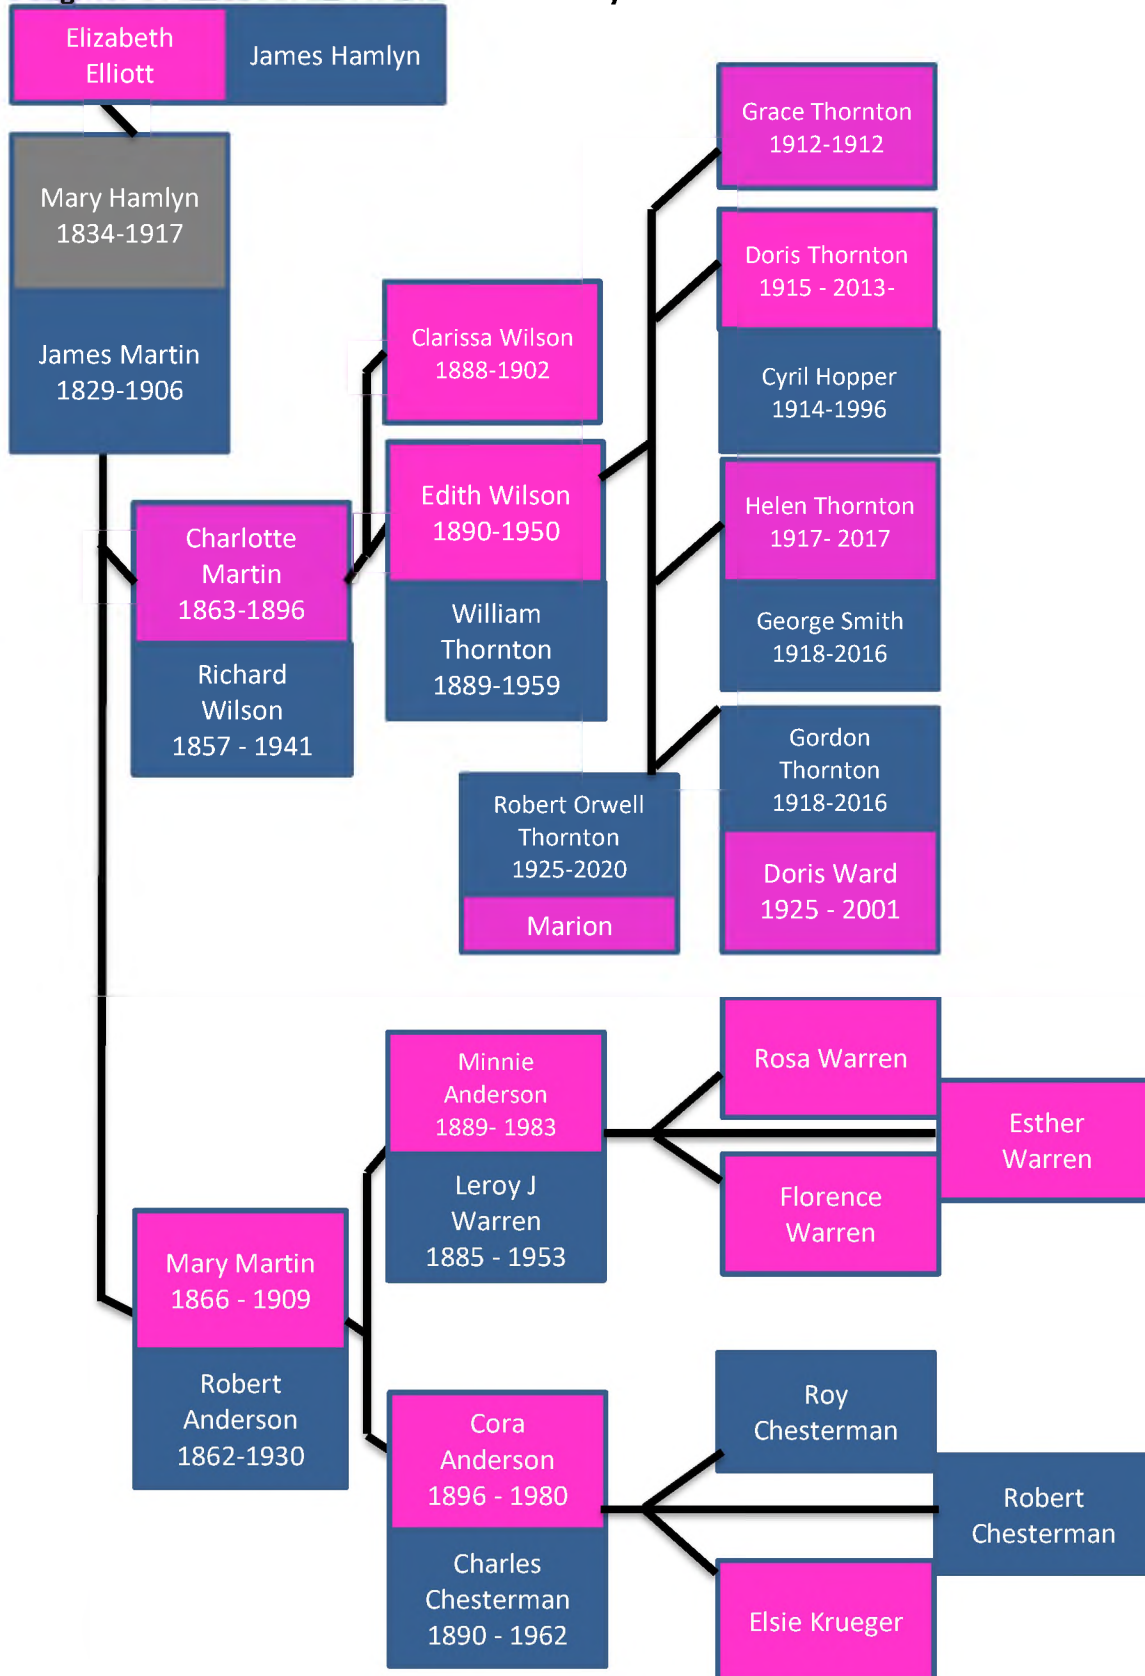

Grace was afforded opportunities for career advancement at McGill University, including the senior position in the Medical Library. "I felt I had a contribution to make because I knew so much about libraries. But if I had been a young person, I'd have wanted to have an awful lot more of medicine, for my own confidence in being able to do the position." Given the library's long tradition and excellent collection, Grace made her mark focusing on service. She also had the burden of planning a new library in a round building. For this project, she relied heavily on consultants. "I would speak very much for the value of consultants in any building and especially with libraries, and with the distinctive things that you want to have for libraries. Also, because medical people, you know are pretty sure they know what's best for everybody. It's quite good then, to have authoritative people supporting you. So they listened very respectfully to these ideas that we came forth with, from having talked to the experts in our field."

Grace joined the Medical Library Association in 1956 when she assumed the administrative position at the McGill Medical Library. She was on the Publications Committee and attended several regional and annual meetings. At these meetings, the Canadian librarians met together over breakfast. At the Toronto meeting in 1959, discussion among those in the group of medical school librarians was on how to improve access to resources on a national level. She returned to McGill and consulted with the Dr. Stevenson, the Dean of Medicine. "So we thought it would be quite nice if the McGill collection became the National Library of Canada, working with all the other medical faculties. The National Library of Canada would be contained in the Medical Faculty libraries of the country. We thought this was an interesting different approach than the United States had..." Grace recalled that the Association of Canadian Medical Colleges was in its beginning stages at this time. Its Executive Director, Dr. MacLeod, convened a meeting of the deans and librarians which lasted for a day and half. The outcome of this 1962 meeting was the agreement to do a survey about libraries with funds donated by each of the deans. Beatrice Simon, who was then Assistant Librarian at McGill, took on the project. "She traveled from coast to coast and interviewed the deans and the librarians, and the Simon Report was published in about 1965..." This informal group of librarians then went on to form an affiliation with the Canadian Library Association to continue the work on medical library development.

The medical library building that was noted that Grace helped plan the design of in 1961 was the McIntyre Medical Building. This structure is seen on many postcards of Montreal

Mary was 9 years old when she came across the Atlantic with her mother, brother and sister in 1843. Her first appearance in the local census was in 1851 as living with her cousins, the Thomas Prouse family, a few kilometers south west of Ingersoll on the Prouse family farm. The census does indicate that her normal residence was in the village of Ingersoll. It also lists her as age 18, she was likely 16 or 17 years old.

She and James Martin of Beachville married in 1857 and soon they were living working a farm. There is some unpacking to do with the family relationship of James Martin and Mary Hamlyn. James's mother was Grace Prouse who lived and died in Devon. Grace Prouse was the sister of Thomas Prouse. Thomas Prouse was married to Mary Elliott Prouse who was Mary Hamlyn's aunt.

James Martin was a Bible Christian farmer who emigrated from Hartland Devon in 1851 with his family and settled in the N and W Oxford area around Beachville. A map of Beachville in the book "Beachville the Birthplace of Oxford" points out a couple of "old Martin places" on an 1862 map of the village (and farms adjacent to more Devon relations of the Downing/Elliott properties (Book 7). He and Mary married at the farm of uncle Thomas Elliott halfway between Ingersoll and Beachville on Lot 15 Con 3 N Oxford. The Martin's purchased 75 acres of the east side of Lot 10 Con 3 W Oxford in October of 1863. James, Mary and two children worked the farm for over 20 years. The farm is about 2 km east of Folden's Corners and the homestead is now long gone. It seemed the couple also had some ownership via mortgages to Lot 6 of John St. in Ingersoll as well. They sold the property in 1886 as per Onland.ca.

James Martin came from a well-known and long-standing family in the Ingersoll and Beachville area (see next page). The family, like many Devon emigrants, were listed in previous census as Bible Christians Book 1 has an explanation of the religious group. By the 1881 census, the Bible Christian organization was starting to wane. The family were now Methodists. In 1899, they sold the W Oxford farm and moved into Ingersoll to retire. After her husband's death, Mary moved in with her daughter Charlotte Wilson.

THE LATE MRS. MARTIN.

The death occurred Monday evening at the home of Mr. R. H. Wilson, Folden's Corners, of Mrs. James Martin, in her 84th year. The deceased had been ill for about one month. She was well known in Ingersoll, having resided here for a period of about 18 years, and was a member of the Methodist church, of which she had been a regular attendant. During her stay in town Mrs. Martin made a wide circle of friends, who will receive with regret the news of her demise. The husband predeceased her about 11 years ago. Left to survive are three grand-daughters: Mrs. Norman Thornton, Mrs. Roy Warren of Dereham Township and Mrs. Chas. F. Chesterman of Ingersoll. The funeral was held from the home of Mr. R. H. Wilson, Thursday afternoon, to the Ingersoll Rural Cemetery and was largely attended.

WELL KNOWN RESIDENT PASSED AWAY TODAY.

From Monday's Daily.

Mr. James Martin, for a number of years a resident of Ingersoll, died at his home, Inkerman street, shortly after eleven o'clock this morning, in his 76th year. Mr. Martin had only been ill about two weeks and the announcement of his death will be received with deep regret by a wide circle of friends. Before coming to Ingersoll to reside Mr. Martin was engaged in farming in West Oxford for a long period. Besides the widow, he is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Robt. Anderson, West Oxford, and three grandchildren.

Folden's Corners, Passes

One of West Oxford Townships oldest residents, Richard Henry Wilson, dearly beloved husband of Margaret A. Arthur, passed away at his residence, Folden's Corners, on Thursday morning, January 2nd. Although he had been in poor health for several years, he was seriously ill only about a week. Deceased was born in West Oxford Township and was in his 85th year. He had been a lifelong resident of the Folden's district. He was a member of the Folden's United Church and served as an elder for many years. As long as his health permitted he was a regular attendant at church services. Deceased was highly esteemed and had a wide circle of friends.

Richard was part of the large Wilson family that moved from Yorkshire in 1832 and settled to the south west of Ingersoll at the Dereham/W Oxford border of the Culloden Road.

Charlotte's great aunt Eliza Elliott married into the Wilson family in the 1850's. Richard H Wilson is listed in the 1892 Union Publishing Directory for W Oxford as occupying Con 4 Lot 14. Onland.ca confirms Richard had purchased 70 acres there in 1882 and another 50 acres nearby a few years later. The Richard Wilson name showed up in 1906 as owner of a portion of Lot 12 Con 3 W Oxford as well. A few years later, his second wife's name appears on Lot 13 Con 3 W Oxford. Onland.ca records for the timeframe are hard to decipher and there seems to have been lots of legal activity over Lot 12 through the years. As seemed to be common, land sales were a going concern for the area. Richard's last legal appearance on Lot 12 was in 1935 when he sold the farm to his son Richard L Wilson.

Charlotte died suddenly while on the operating table as she was dealing with Uterine fibroids. Her death left a young daughter at home. After Charlotte's death, Richard H Wilson remarried a Margaret Arthur a few years later and had more children with his second wife. Interestingly, with first wife Charlotte passing in 1896, Richard continued to take care of his ex mother-in-law Mary Hamlyn Martin until her death.

Born at the family farm between Foldens and Sweaburg, Norm spent his youth labouring on the family farm at Lot 13 Con 3 W Oxford. It appears his family owned ½ of the lot and the Martins owned the other ½. Norm and Edith likely grew up together. His parents were American immigrants to Canada. After his marriage he was farming with his new wife Edith in 1911 at Lot 17 Con 3 W Oxford, just down the road from his parents. By 1921, he was a grocer in Ingersoll and in the 1931 census he was a dairy farmer in W Oxford. Later in the late 1940's it appears that he may have been a truck driver living in London. Edith was the grand daughter of Robert O Wilson of the West Oxford Wilsons. Robert O was the brother of Charles Wilson who married Eliza Elliott and thus a family tie to Book 5 and the Wilson family is established.

The couple are buried in Woodland Cemetery London. The couple had five children

Robert grew up on W Oxford Con 4 Lot 8 near Sweaburg. His father John Anderson purchased the east half of Lot 8 from the Meek family in April 1861. John married a Meek daughter, Clementine, so the sale was only natural. It appears that Robert was a farmer's son working on his dad's property when he married Mary Martin. The marriage was in the spring of 1887. As often the case, they were farming neighbours who knew each other as children. In the late 1880s, father John Anderson's name was no longer attached to the property. Robert did not purchase the farm but was most likely a tenant farmer on the land at that time. He and Mary later moved into Ingersoll and by 1908 he was working for the Ingersoll Telephone Co.

DEATH OF MRS. ANDERSON.

PASSED AWAY THIS MORNING
AFTER A SHORT ILLNESS.

The death of Mary Esther Martin, beloved wife of Mr Robert Anderson, which occurred at the family residence, Canterbury Street, this morning, after a short illness has occasioned widespread regret. The late Mrs. Anderson had many friends in Ingersoll and throughout the surrounding districts and she was universally esteemed. Deceased was the daughter of the late James Martin and besides the husband is survived by two daughters, Cora and Winnie. The funeral arrangements have not yet been made.

DERSON LARGELY

The funeral to the Ingersoll Rural Cemetery on Saturday afternoon of the late Mrs. Robert Anderson was one of the largest seen in Ingersoll for some time, an evidence of the high esteem in which the deceased was held. The service at the house, which was of a most impressive nature, was conducted by the Rev. T. L. Kerruish. Friends and relatives were in attendance from all parts of the county and there were upwards of seventy-five vehicles in the procession. Many floral offerings were indicative of esteem and sympathy. The pall bearers were Messrs. Wm. Newton, Geo. Mitchell, Robert Pullin, Andrew Mitchell, Bradford Sage and Chas. Budd.

Cleburne Texas. Cleburne is a small town south west of Dallas. It turns out that his father (John McKay Anderson), stepmother, and siblings had moved to Texas in 1885 after selling his family farm in 1880. Some of Robert's aunts and uncles later followed. John McKay Anderson started a mill in 1885 with his brother George in Cleburne. When John died in 1909, son Robert travelled from Ingersoll to Cleburne to deal with his father's affairs. It was there that he received notice of his wife's condition. When he received word of the seriousness of his wife's health he raced back to Ingersoll. Border records show that he crossed back into Canada on June 16th 1909. She died a day later on June 17th. Did he make it back in time to see her? A couple of months after her death he returned to Cleburne but without his daughters who were aged 20 and 14. They remained in Ingersoll living with widowed grandmother Mary Martin as confirmed by Hamlyn family ancestors. When he returned to Cleburne, he and his brother took over the flour mill. The 1910 US census records him as a retired widower living with his aunt Mary Anderson Leonard (sister to Robert's father John McKay Anderson). In 1911, border listings showed he returned to Ingersoll to attend daughter Minnie's wedding and retrieve daughter Cora who would then live with him in Texas. She was 15 years old at the time. The flour mill was sold in 1917, at which time he started selling Studebakers in Cleburne. Family was very important to the residents of Oxford County in the early 1900s. The social and emotional support given by family members was significant. I suspect that the separation of siblings Minnie and Cora was a dark period in the girls lives.

By February of 1913, widower Robert had married Lertie (Spears) McCoy of Cleburne. He was 59 years old and she was 39. The last reference to the couple together was in the 1928 phone directory for Cleburne. They were living at 1001 Prairie Ave and it appears Lertie had an office that was accessible from a door in the rear of the house and was still working as a bookkeeper for a feed store. Robert died in 1930 in Cleburne and is buried there. Lertie remarried in 1935 to Samuel Chandler of Cleburne. She died of bowel obstruction and shock 2 years later at age 55. The Anderson information is supported by daughter Minnie's oral history of her personal recollections.

Minnie and Cora were the two daughters of Robert Anderson that were still living in the Ingersoll area when mother Mary died in 1909 and Robert was temporarily residing in Texas. After Minnie's mother's death, it is known the girls lived with their grandmother Mary Martin for two years. It is known that Miss Minnie Anderson has taken a position as telegraph operator in the office of the G. N. W. Tel. Co., in Ingersoll—Tillsonburg Observer.

Minnie took on work with the phone company in April of 1908. Minnie married in 1911 to Leroy (Roy) Warren. He worked on his father's farm according to the 1911 census for Dereham. In 1917, Roy's name was attached to lot 11 con 4 N ½ W. Oxford. The family were raising a dairy herd through the 1930's and in the early 1940s, Roy was listed as a joint tenant of the property with the Dewit family of Foldens. This farm was only a concession away from the Anderson farm, south west of Sweaburg, where his wife Minnie Anderson was born.

WARREN-ANDERSON--The home of Mr. Robert Anderson, Canterbury St., was the scene of a very pretty wedding at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when his eldest daughter, Minnie, was united in marriage to Roy Warren, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Warren of Saiford. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. H. B. Christie in the presence of about 50 guests. The bridal party standing under an evergreen arch, bright with tinsel and candles. The wedding march was played by Miss Florence Warren, sister of the groom. The bride's gown was of cream silk and she carried a bouquet of white carnations. The only attendant was the flower girl, little Miss Mildred Gregg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Gregg of Folden's, who as dressed in white silk and carried a basket containing pink carnations and the ring. All the rooms were prettily congratulations and were illuminated by candles and Japanese lanterns. After the wedding repast congratulations and best wishes were showered upon the happy couple, they left on the evening train for Sarnia and points west, the bride travelling in a tailored suit of navy blue, with hat to match. A handsome array of presents testified to the esteem in which the bride is held by a wide circle of friends. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Warren will reside near Saiford with his parents.

Sometime after 1940, Roy retired and by 1945 Roy and Minnie were living in Ingersoll on King St. Daughter Esther was living with them and working as a clerk. To supplement the income of the family in 1948, the Warrens took a nurse as a boarder (voters list 1948). Daughter Florence was living with them in 1948. Roy died in 1953. Minnie suffered a stroke around 1965 and was moved from her home to an extended care facility.

Memories from descendent Paul Chesterman

"Minnie Anderson (1889-1983) was always known to me as "Aunt Minnie" and she was wonderful. She was the closest I knew to having a grandmother because my grandmother Cora had a stroke when I was about 10 months old. Aunt Minnie had married John LeRoy Warren but he passed away before I was born. Aunt Minnie and her daughters (with their husbands) would often come to visit, and I loved them. They were wonderful people. I actually had a somewhat strange, what I would call spiritual, connection to them. I remember even as a child of 4 or 5 (certain of age because of house we lived in) I would tell my parents in the morning that "we were getting company from Ingersoll today" and every time I said it Aunt Minnie and her daughters would show up that afternoon. It was rather uncanny, and even my parents came to trust my intuition and would prepare for company, as they always showed up unannounced.”

Ross Mitchell Killed in Wood-Cutting Accident

Announcement of the tragic death of Ross Mitchell, a Dereham Township farmer, on Monday afternoon, cast a gloom over the immediate district. Mr. Mitchell was hit either by a large limb or a section of a tree which he was cutting with a chain saw.

Located only a short distance from the rear of the barn, the tree had been elevated owing to resting on some of the limbs, and had evidently turned when he cut through it with the saw and he was struck either by it or a heavy limb, and death was believed to have been instantaneous due to head injuries. He had started to cut and trim the tree about two o'clock, and after some two hours his wife became anxious when he had not returned to the house and she discovered his lifeless body.

Born on the farm, Lot 16, Concession 3, Dereham Township, where he had spent his entire lifetime, Mr. Mitchell was 42 years old and was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Mitchell. He was a member of the Salford Baptist Church and had always taken a keen interest in the welfare of the community. Possessing a quiet and kindly nature, he had won for himself scores of friends, and his untimely passing has occasioned deep regret.

Left to mourn the passing of a dearly loved husband and father are his wife, the former Rose Warren; one son, Allan and one daughter, Mary Ellen. Also surviving is one sister, Mrs. Ralph Shelton (Grace), of Ingersoll, and one brother, Roy of Dereham. Mr. Mitchell rested at the McBeath Funeral Home, 246 Thames Street South, Ingersoll, where service will be conducted this (Thursday) afternoon, March 5th, at two o'clock, by Rev. Arthur Sadler of the Folden's Baptist Church. Temporary entombment will be made in the Ingersoll Mausoleum.

Ross' brother Roy married a Mildred Warren which was likely a niece of Leroy Warren, Minnie's husband.

Son Warren suffered a tragic fate.

This calm spring-fed pond claimed the life of Warren Webber, aged 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Webber, when a raft overturned throwing him and three other boys into the ten foot depth. Mrs. L. A. Quinn brought a rope from the barn in the background in a vain attempt to rescue him.

The two young daughters are grandchildren of Albert and Esther Webber.

Bereaved of Only Son

Tragedy struck Ingersoll again on Friday afternoon when Warren Webber, dearly loved ten year old son and only child of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. "Bill" Webber of 17 Cross Street, fell from a raft on which he and three companions were playing and drowned. Ten year old Sandy MacDougall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Findlay MacDougall, Cross Street, was saved when he grabbed a rope thrown to him by Mrs. L. A. Quinn, on whose farm the pond is where the boys were playing the raft.

Steve Albrough, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Albrough, Cross Street, and Gerald Bisbee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bisbee, of Woodstock, formerly of Ingersoll, swam to safety but Warren panicked when the raft capsized and according to Steve Albrough was unable to grab the rope. Ingersoll Fire Chief Les Harlow with Firemen William Empey and Cecil Mills, failed in their attempt to revive the boy by artificial respiration.

A grade 5 pupil at Clark's Corners, Warren was a great favourite with his classmates. He attended Trinity United Church and Sunday School and his untimely passing has occasioned deep regret throughout the community.

Left to mourn his passing besides his parents are his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Webber of Beachville and Mrs. Minnie Warren of Ingersoll. Warren rested at the McBeath Funeral Home, 246 Thames Street South, until 12.30 o'clock, Monday noon, then at the Trinity United Church Chapel where service was held at 2 P. M. with Rev. S. Lucey officiating. During the service a lovely solo, "Come Ye Disconsolate", was sung by Mrs. Lois Bradfield.

The service was very largely attended and members of Grade 5 of Clark's Corner School attended in a body and also formed a guard of honour at the church and at the cemetery.

The profusion of beautiful floral offerings, donations to the Ingersoll Kiwanis Club Crippled Children's Fund, and Gideon Bibles, bore silent tribute of esteem and sympathy to the sorrowing family.

Interment was made in the family plot in the Harris Street Cemetery the casket bearers being: John Cook, Cecil Albrough, Findlay MacDougall and Frank Bisbee. Flower bearers were: Sandy MacDougall, Gerald Bisbee, Steve Albrough, Lawrence Pye and Kenny Armstrong.

The couple lived most of their lives in Thamesford. He left home to join the Corps. of Engineers in the Royal Canadian Artillery with service in England and Germany. When he returned, he married Florence. Prior to the marriage, Florence was a bookkeeper while Larry was a carpenter. He was honoured for his service in Thamesford with the Volunteer Fire Brigade. Son Robert remembers their house in Thamesford as having a step driveway and the house was dark and cold.

Around 1920, they made a trip to California with the thought of living there. Grandson Paul Chesterman fills in the details.

“My grandparents shared this story with my parents, who in turn shared it with us children. When my father was about 2 yrs. old (circa 1922) his parents decided to move to California. I don't know where in California but I suspect it may have been in the area of Eureka since Charlie's brother Frank had moved there a few years earlier. Frank had a restaurant and grew mushrooms there. When Charles & Cora moved cross country apparently my (two-year-old) father did not take well to the change. As the story goes, he refused to eat anything except peas! As a result, the family decided to return to southern Ontario where his diet expanded to include other items. While there is nothing wrong with peas per se, I think if I was only going to eat one thing, I should make a different selection! That part of the story amused me as a child but I was most disappointed to think that my father's 2yr old stubbornness overcame my grandparents will, and as a result I did not get to grow up on the Pacific coast in California. All my life I wanted to live on the west coast but I was prevented from growing up there by a 2yr old years before my own birth!” Editors note: Paul Chesterman got his wish and lives near Vancouver.

Charles Chesterman was raised in Hespeler by his father who was a gardener but was living in Waterford at the time of the marriage. The couple lived in Waterford for a short time before moving back to Ingersoll. In Ingersoll he was a taxi driver according to the 1921 census. The 1931 census had the family living in Stratford at 20 Centre St. where Charles was the manager of a music store. They moved to Waterloo where he had a number of jobs including storekeeper but settled on a job in sales. It is understood by his direct descendants that he could sell anything to anyone. He went to work for Onward Manufacturing (see ad).

Charles Chesterman died in 1962 while living in south Kitchener near the interchange of Highways #7 and #8.

Wife Cora suffered a major stroke around 1962 and was incapacitated. In February of 1963 she was moved to the Scott Pavilion of the Kitchener Waterloo Hospital. The Pavilion, built in 1936, was a long-term residence in hospice and is a wing of the hospital. She never recovered and died there in 1980.

“My grandmother Cora had a stroke when I was about 10 months old. She was paralyzed all down one side and could not speak. I only ever knew her lying in a hospital bed (we visited almost every week until she passed when I was 18), and the only thing she could say was "woody, woody, woody" with varying degrees of excitement, pleasure, or irritation. It's amazing how much can be communicated through tone!"

Maria was the youngest of Elizabeth Elliott Hamlyn's children. There is confusion about her birth year. The North Devon Exodus Data base that lists all emigrant families in North Devon has her birth year as 1838. Her grave marker, found census records, as well as her death certificate indicated she was born in 1836. Her baptism record is of no assistance (above). This is also the case with brother Thomas. His birth year is also out by 2 years according to the Devon census. The 1841 Devon census is pictured previously on page 4.

Although Edward Henderson was born in Northumberland England, the Henderson family emigrated in 1841 as per the 1911 census. I believe Edward's entire family came at that time as the Henderson clan occupies a large swath of IRC. The Henderson name is prominent in Maria's aunt Mary Elliott Prouse family marriages (Book 2). Edward Henderson is listed as a farmer on the earlier census records and later living in Ingersoll on King Hiram St. I have not located a record of a farm owned in his name. There was a farm owned by Edward H Henderson in N Oxford. James tomb marker indicates he was Edward M Henderson. I believe the farm was owned by a relative. I suspect Edward was a farm labourer until around 1871 when he was farming in W Oxford but by 1873 was living in Ingersoll where upon he became a carpenter. Several relatives of his worked at the Noxon equipment plant as carpenters, so it is Henderson, was held Tuesday afternoon from the residence of her son Chester Henderson, John street, to the Ingersoll rural cemetery. possible he spent some of his later years there as well. There is an interesting topic found in the 1875 Ingersoll City Directory. It lists the Hendersons as living on John St. This is the "Elliott family subdivision" that was laid out into lots by Maria's grandfather, John Elliott, around 1850. Onland.ca verifies that it was the Henderson's that purchasing Lot 7 in 1873. Maria's brother, Thomas Hamlyn, who purchased lots from his grandfather was listed as living on John St. as well in 1873. In the 1881 census, mother Elizabeth Hamlyn Hempswell was living with the family but by the 1891 census, mother Elizabeth Hempswell (age 80) was living next door to Maria and Edward in her own house on John St.

The 1875 City Directory also listed Edward as a member of the Rawling and Henderson business. I have not been able to locate the business.

DIED SUDDENLY--Edward M. Henderson, dropped dead at his home, King Hiram Street, shortly before 6 o'clock last evening. Deceased who was in his 77th year, had been in his usual health up to the time of his death. The cause of death was heart failing. During the afternoon the late Mr. Henderson was shoveling snow and just before his death he had carried a scuttle of coal. He had been a resident of Ingersoll for many years and was life long member of the Methodist church. Deceased was highly esteemed by a wide circle of friends who will hear of his sudden death with profound regret. He is survived by a widow and a grown-up family

D 10 Nov 1941 St Thomas. She lived in Fingal.

Rebecca Jessop was from a large family of Jessops that lived just north of Ingersoll town limits. Their farm bordered on the many Henderson farms in the area. Although husband Herbert's family was not one of the Hendersons that lived in the area, there is a good chance that he and Rebecca crossed paths while he was working with or visiting with cousins. Rebecca and Herbert were married prior to the 1891 census. Herbert was living in the vicinity of Ingersoll until around 1893 when he moved to farm in Southwold township, Elgin Co. He died at age 66 of multiple neuritis. This is a paralysis of the nerves system associated with MS. Wife Rebecca moved to Fingal after Herbert's death and worked as a domestic to pay the bills until her death of a cerebral hemorrhage. They had one "daughter" named Allie Paterson. Allie was born 25 Oct, 1898 as per the 1911 census. There is no record of her living with the pair in the previous 1901 census nor the later 1921 census. One potential answer to her parentage would be that she was a niece. Rebecca's sister Alice married John Paterson in N Oxford in 1882. I suspect Allie was a daughter. Alice died in 1897. Allie's siblings died in 1910 and 1893 (buried IRC) and although still alive, father John Paterson appears to have sent his surviving daughter Allie to live with her aunt Rebecca. Childless Rebecca and Herbert took her in as a daughter.

How Chester and Ada met is unknown, but Ada's father and brother worked for the GWR as engineers. Was it likely that Ada's father or brother new Chester's uncle who also worked for a railway company in Ingersoll? After they married at the tender age of 20 and 19 respectively, they lived on Charles St in Ingersoll before moving to the "family subdivision" on John. St. At the time of his first child, he was working as a foreman for a shift of weavers working at a textile mill. Waterhouse Mfg. Co. was in business as a clothing manufacturer at that time in Ingersoll. His father was living on John St. at the same time. His next-door neighbour according to the 1911 census was his grandmother Grace and her second husband, retired farmer Ebenezer Uren. Paraphrasing the 1894 Ingersoll directory, Chester lived in the "7 house north of Bell St. west side". His father Edward, lived "last house on end of John St. W side". The John Elliott subdivision of 1852 continued to be the family neighbourhood. Chester's daughter continued to live in the house into the 1990s.

1908 Ingersoll Directory

In 1921 and 1931 censuses, the couple lived on John St. until their deaths. The 1908 directory indicated that Chester had changed professions to a machinest for the Noxon Co. The 1931 census listed him as a recently laid off electrician at a "drill factory". There is a curiosity about Chester's middle name Lymon. A distant cousin in the Prouse family married a Barnabus Lymon. Is there a relationship between another Henderson cousin and a Maria Hamlyn cousin?

It appears Earl had a mind for numbers and statistics. He was raised on John St. in Ingersoll and went to the University of Toronto in 1914, graduating in Mathematics and Physics. He went to work for the London Life Assurance Company of London Ontario. He fought in WWI as noted in his obituary and upon his return moved to Toronto to work at Crown Life Insurance. A year later he accepted a position with Connecticut Insurance in Hartford rising to the position of Vice President.

Earl was a member of the Actuaries of America and member of the University Golf club and Hartford Golf Club. He was president and chairman of numerous organizations in Hartford including Kingswood private school.

Earl C. Henderson Dies, Officer Of Conn. General

Earl C. Henderson, vice president and actuary at Connecticut General Life Insurance Co., died Monday afternoon at his home at 15 Birch Rd., West Hartford.

A native of Canada, Henderson joined Connecticut General in 1920, was elected assistant actuary in 1925 and actuary in 1929. Elected secretary and actuary in 1940, he became vice president and actuary in 1944.

Born in Ontario

He was born in Ingersoll, Ont., the son of Mrs. Ada Edwards Henderson and the late Chester Lyman Henderson. He was graduated from the University of Toronto in 1914 with a degree in mathematics and physics and then went to work for the London Life Insurance Co. of London, Ont., Canada.

He served with the 13th Canadian Field Artillery Battery in France during World War I and on his discharge from the army, joined the Crown Life Insurance Co. in Toronto. The following year he joined Connecticut General. He became a United States citizen in 1929.

Henderson's interests at Connecticut General have been more than actuarial. In the company's field sales operations he organized the present-day field budget system and laid the foundation for the budget in the home office.

Obituary from Hartford Courant Mar. 15, 1955
Earl rose through the ranks of the Connecticut General Insurance Co. to become a vice president of the company. Connecticut General Insurance was renamed Signa Insurance and later added the Aetna brand. The new company was formed in 1792 and still exists today. Ironically another Elliott cousin was high up in the Hartford Insurance Company at the same time frame.

1892 Earl Clement Henderson 1955

Earl Clement Henderson, Vice President and Actuary of the Connecticut General Life Insurance Company, died March 14, 1955.

He was born December 25, 1892 at Ingersoll, Ontario, and graduated from the University of Toronto in 1914. After a brief period with the London Life Insurance Company, he served in the Canadian Field Artillery OBITUARY 187 throughout World War I. On termination of this service, he was employed for about a year in the Crown Life Insurance Company and then joined the Actuarial Department of the Connecticut General Life Insurance Company in the summer of 1920.

He was elected Assistant Actuary in 1924, Actuary in 1929, Secretary and Actuary in 1940, and Vice President and Actuary in 1944.

He became a Fellow of the Actuarial Society of America in 1922, a Fellow of the American Institute of Actuaries at a later date, and was a loyal attendant at the meetings of both of the earlier organizations and of the present Society.

His actuarial training led him quite early in his career into an appreciation of the importance of searching expense analyses, both for rate-making and as a guide to intelligent Company decisions, and throughout his career this remained one of his major business interests. During the mid-1930's, he organized the field sales budget of the Company and placed it on a routine running basis, and a little later laid the foundation of the Company's present home office budget plan.

He kept his actuarial ideals on a high plane, but had the wisdom to steer clear of undue concentration on unessential details. His recommendations as to Company action were prompted by a sincere loyalty and selflessness accompanied by courage and persistence in pushing for action when he thought it was imperative.

He was jealous of the good name of the actuarial profession and insistent on furthering the welfare and progress of the actuarial students under his jurisdiction. In 1934, recognizing the need for more guidance for students on the earlier actuarial examinations, he took the lead in organizing systematic mathematical classroom instruction for their benefit. Classes under a paid instructor, sponsored by the five life insurance companies in Hartford, are being carried on today in essentially the same form as he originally urged.

Because his nature was so warm and genuine, he made many friends--in Hartford, among his Company's field representatives, and throughout the Society membership. He had a wonderful and enviable life with his family.

His wise counsel and, even more, the vital impact of daily association with him will be greatly missed.

Acknowledgments:

It has been thirty-four months since Covid led me to this journey of connection to my family. Traipsing through the past has enriched me with knowledge of where I was born and raised in Oxford County. I also understand more about my extended ancestral family and the lives they led. I wish to thank the following people and organizations that put up with what may have seemed as unending requests and constant badgering. I apologize to those I have missed. This project is as much your as mine. Take a bow.

And to my immediate family – I am sorry that I caused so many eye rolls as I regaled them with stories from past generations. Special thanks to my hawk-eyed Editor and wife Gaile. Their patience and encouragement were always welcome and at times needed.
